THE GOVERNOR CALLS AN EXTRA SESSION

His Action Was a Great Surprise to Members of the Legislature.

BILLS COMMERCIAL CLUB DESIRED PASSED BEFORE ADJOURNMENT

He Claims the Whiskey Lobby Defeated Rectifiers' Tax--Wants Bill Passed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—Like a clap of thunder from a clear sky came a call for an extra session of the legislature, from Governor Beckham at the hour of midnight when he sent to both houses of the legislature his final communications.

The special session began at noon today and the call states that its purpose is to pass a law assessing a tax on rectifiers, which the legislature failed to pass in the revenue bill, and to enlarge the powers of the revenue agent.

The governor takes occasion to blame the defeat of the action carrying the rectifiers' tax, to the whiskey lobby which has worked so persistently and efficiently to defeat that legislation.

The official call was received with applause in the lower house, which did all it could, in regular session, to do as the governor thinks it should have been done, and with silence in the upper branch, a majority of whose members made it impossible to put in the revenue bill a tax on the business of rectifying liquor.

But for the action of the administration leaders on the floor of the house yesterday afternoon in agreeing to drop from the revenue measure, the rectifier tax feature, the entire revenue bill would have gone down in defeat.

That they had knowledge of the governor's intentions in the matter, and it was a pretty smooth piece of work upon their part to drop out the rectifying tax article in order to get the bill through, and then keep the assembly here to enact a separate statute, a license tax upon the rectifiers.

TO INVESTIGATE CHARGES OF UNDEE INFLUENCE.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—The two branches of the general assembly convened in extraordinary session at 12:30 o'clock today.

The proclamation of the governor was read, but no other message was received. In the upper branch Senator Campbell introduced, and the senate adopted, a resolution excluding from the floor of the senate during the extra session all persons but officers, employees and newspaper representatives. This will keep off the floor all lobbyists and others not entitled to be there. On motion of Senator Cammack all old committees were continued in service. In view of the many flying rumors of undue influence in connection with the defeat of the rectifiers' license tax it is more than probable that a sweeping investigation will be made at once, and that most of the extra session will be taken up with that investigation.

Following the adjournment of the senate, Messrs. Campbell, Har-ison and Allen got together and arranged that Senator Campbell should draw up a resolution setting out in its preamble the language of the governor's message and calling for a thorough investigation of all rumors and intimations which are flying thick and fast today, of undue influence in connection with the rectifiers' article.

They decided to name three senators from the side of the "Gallon Tax Unit" side of the rectifiers' question to conduct the investigation, and to have their names as such special committee set out in the resolution and in order to prevent the appointment of any other committee to conduct this investigation.

The Close of the Regular Session.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—During the afternoon and evening of the last day of the regular session, the senate acted upon bills as follows,
among others:

Item making it a felony to destroy tobacco plants and beds, adopted.

To prevent obstruction of navigable streams adopted.

The capital bill appropriating
$2,500,000, adopted.

The bill granting from 4 to 6 percent, the amount of interest to be normal school for colored persons at Frankfort.

osteopaths of other states to practice in Kentucky, killed.

sociations to increase amount of their capital stock, adopted.

feeble-minded institute, adopted.

To prevent shipping of whiskey
into local option districts adopted.

mills at one-seventh, adopted.

turnpikes already built, adopted.

time in which to incorporate or quit
business, adopted.

Requiring Ohio river ferry companies to erect waiting rooms for their passengers, adopted.

Requiring applicants for teachers'
certificates to take oath that they have not had access to questions,
adopted.

By vote of 22 to 8 the senate refused to call for confirmation of the Simons anti-pollroom bill.

The house took action on bills as follows among others:

Providing that fiscal courts may appropriate money for the benefit of educational institutions of the county, adopted.

Authorizing second class cities to appropriate money to advertise resources, adopted.

Appropriating $2,000 for hospital
in Frankfort penitentiary, was amended and made to include all appropriation bills for the prisons,
amounting to $42,000, adopted.

Placing state fair under state board of agricultural commissioners, adopted.

A deputy city clerk for second class cities, adopted.

Continuing $15,000 annual appropriation for geologist survey,
adopted.

Fixing time for holding elections
for school trustees in Kuttawa district, adopted.

Increasing annual appropriation for state blind asylum from $10,000
to $15,000 adopted.

The Closing Scenes.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—The assembly session closed last night and much the same scenes as have marked the close of sessions for a dozen years past, and there was much good feeling between the men who have been associated together
for two months and a half past.
There was a great deal of confusion
and throwing of paper wads, inter-persed with happy and feeling speeches of parting and presentation of evidences of esteem for officers.

Speaker Lawrence was presented with a handsome diamond ring and Chief Clerk Stone, of the house, with a fine watch.

The speech presenting to Speaker
Lawrence a beautiful diamond ring
was made by Representative James Marshall, of the county of Oldham. He said: A few short days ago we knew him only in passing, but enough members knew his worth to elevate him to the speaker's chair, and in doing so our faith in him, now at the close, has not been mistaken or disappointed. He has presided over us with courtesy and kindness, but at the same time with firmness and excellent judgment, and in so doing,

has advanced the interests of the whole people of the state."

Mr. Head, of McCracken, was next recognized, and in a few well chosen remarks presented Chief Clerk Stone with a handsome gold watch. He thanked the clerk on behalf of the house for courtesies to members, and for unflinching labors during the session. Chief Clerk Stone responded feelingly, reviewing his long career at the house desk.

Paducah Hills Pass.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—
Among the bills passed before the windup were the one authorizing general councils in second class cities to appropriate money for advertising the commercial advantages of the city, and the other authorizing fiscal courts to appropriate money for the establishment of colleges
within the county.

The head printing bill also passed
and is ready for the governor's signature.

Representative Alverson, of Lincoln county, last night presented Speaker Lawrence with a fine diamond ring from the members, and L. P. Head, representative, presented Chief Clerk James E. Stone with a watch as a token of esteem from the members.

WHOLESALE ARREST OF GYPSIES ORDERED

Band of Them Said to Have Mistreated Negro Boy.

County Judge Lightfoot Sent a Pos-
s. of Deputy Sheriffs to Arrest
the Whole Band.

ARE CAMPED NEAR ARCADIA.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning issued an order for a wholesale arrest of gypsies who are camped near Wallace park and the order is being executed this afternoon by Deputy Sheriffs Gus Rogers, Clark
Forsyth and Officers William Rogers and Emil Gourieux.

Yesterday afternoon and this morning several telephone messages were received by Judge Lightfoot from residents in the vicinity of Wallace park saying that the gypsies, numbering several dozen, probably,
were mistreating a small negro boy
whom they think had been stolen
and compelled to accompany the band.

One negro man applied in person
this morning saying that he had seen the rovers strike and beat the boy unmercifully, and thought that the officers should take a hand. The complaints became so numerous that Judge Lightfoot finally ordered them arrested and brought before him this afternoon for an investigation.

Judge Lightfoot intends to compel them to prove whose child the boy is and where they got him. He is a negro about 9 years old and it is said has marks all over his person
where he had been flogged and struck with sticks.

FIRE ON THE OHIO.

It Did $1,000 Worth of Damage Before Subdued.

Manila, March 14.—Fire started today aboard the battleship Ohio, lying in the harbor but was put out after damage of $1,000 had been caused. The Ohio is the flagship of Rear Admiral Train.

GIVES BOND.

James Green, of Tennessee, Released
This Afternoon.

James Green, of Tennessee, one of the men held over yesterday in police court for alleged robbery,
gave bond in the sum of $200 today
and was released. Mr. J. W. Little became his bondsman.

Lawrence for Lieutenant Governor.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—Speaker Henry R. Lawrence retired with the sino die motion with the good wishes of all the members, and the general verdict that he has made a fair, impartial and very capable presiding officer.

During the last few days his associates from the First district have urged upon him to make the race for Lieutenant governor on the ticket two years hence. Mr. Lawrence has made no answer to these solicitations, and will await developments before making any announcement. Among the numerous names mentioned as successor to Percy Haly as adjutant general, is that of Mr. Lawrence.

ENCOURAGING RUSH TO JOIN INSTITUTE

Over 100 Farmers Attend the Second Meeting Here.

The Address on Scientific Farming
By W. H. Scherffus, of State Agricultural Department.

MANY NEW MEMBERS ADDED

The meeting of the Farmers' Institute today was a very largely attended and enthusiastic one, so large
in fact, despite the weather, that it had to adjourn from the Commercial club to the council chambers in the city hall.

President G. P. Husbands presided.
Mr. Hubert Vreeland, commissioner of agriculture, sent Mr. W. H. Scherffus, of the state agricultural department, to address the meeting in his stead, and the address proved very interesting. Mr. Scherffus took up most of his address in giving some interesting data about the work his department has done in connection with corn, showing the average yield of the different localities, and the results of experiments to find the best corn suited for planting.

"The average yield of corn in Kentucky is only 25 bushels to the acre," he said, "which is insignificant. We should, and can increase this by proper selection of seed and proper cultivation."

He then illustrated how the department selected its seed. "We take a germinating box, such as I have here, about two and one half feet by two and one half feet and put in our moist soil, which is checked off in checker board fashion. We then select the best looking gradus of corn
from a number of ears, and put them in the different checks or rows, numbering the checks and also the corn so we can keep track of them. The seeds are then covered with a sack and another layer put on top, and so on. In about four days the seeds have sprouted and we investigate
them to find which has shown the most progress, and in this manner easily select the best seeds. It takes only a few hours to thus select your seed for 25 acres of land, and you will find it the best time you ever invested. This work can easily be done by your children, and should be, as early in life it instills into them a desire to be better farmers
or agriculturists, as it shows them
the possibilities of a little brain work in connection with farming, and will make them more content to stay on the farm, and banish the usual yearning for city life and clerking behind the counters."

Mr. Scherffus also gave other very interesting illustrations of the benefits of scientific thought brought to bear on farming, and answered a number of questions asked by his auditors.

There were at least one hundred farmers at the meeting and at the close of Mr. Scherffus' remarks, nearly all of them enrolled their names
as members of the organization.

Mr. E. K. Bonds read some interesting letters from Cincinnati and St. Louis about Paducah as a center of truck farming, and complimenting
the products they have handled heretofore from this section, very highly.

The association, through its executive committee, will interview all the members of the association to ascertain what crops they would prefer to raise and select the men to raise the different crops, and instruct them how many acres to put in Cantaloupes, beans, cucumbers, strawberries and cabbage will be the crops raised this season.

The meeting adjourned at noon until 1:30 this afternoon at which hours Mr. James A. Shaw of Bloomington, Ill., who is here to interest
the Paducah in a proposed Chautauqua, addressed the meeting.

$200 DAMAGE SUIT

To Be Filed by G. W. Tanner Against
E. W. Benton, It Is Said.

Attorney D. A. Cross will this afternoon file a suit for G. W. Tanner against E. W. Benton, both colored, for $2,000 for assault. Tanner and Benton had an altercation some time ago ending in a trial in police court
and Tanner was fined for flourishing
a pistol. The petition will allege that Benton struck Tanner with a club first. Tanner was once a principal in the colored schools. Benton is now one.

CHAUTAUQUA PROMOTER.

A Committee Will Meet Here to Discuss His Proposition.

Mr. James A. Shaw, of Bloomington, Ill., who is in the city to confer with the Commercial club about holding a Chautauqua here this summer will meet a committee from the club today and consider the matter. Following is the committee,
Charles W. C. W. Thompson,
Harry Meyer and J. S. Bleecker.

HIGHBINDER WAR

Is Expected to Result From Murder of Highbinder King.

San Jose, Cal., March 14.—
Charlie George, king of highbinders, and known to the police all over the country, was shot and killed by an unknown man last night. The murder will likely result in a highbinder war.

A Ministry of Radicals.

Belgrade Serbia, March 14.—
New Serbian ministry has finally been formed and is composed of extreme radicals.

PEOPLE ARE ALMOST AFRAID TO VOTE

National Duma Election Began Today in Russia.

The Socialists Are Again Becoming
Active and Threaten to Strike
Before Spring.

A CONSPIRACY IS UNEARTHED

St. Petersburg, March 14.—The elections for the National Duma are progressing slowly, as the people generally are overawed and afraid to vote. Many liberals elected have been arrested and sent to Siberia.

Socialists' New Outbreak.

Warsaw, March 14.—The Socialists have created a stir by issuing the following proclamation: "We have no faith in the government or duma. Revolutionists must fight until their aims are reached. A merciless fight will be renewed in the spring and the struggle must be ended or won before the glorious first of May."

Chaos Again Threatened.

St. Petersburg, March 14.—A conspiracy among reactionists to oppose Premier Witte by inciting a counter revolution, has been discovered and a new propaganda of Socialists unearthed. When spring approaches chaos is threatened in Russia again. At today's session of the cabinet Witte insisted upon the suppression of the organization known as the League of Russian People,
through which agitation of the reactionary "Black Hundred" propaganda, it is said, Witte was forced to arrive at this decision, but this is not absolutely confirmed.

MARCUM CASES

ARE ALL TRANSFERRED FROM BREATHITT TO LEE COUNTY.

The Defendants Were Granted Bail
in the Sum of $10,000
Each.

Jackson Ky., March 14.—Special
Judge D. L. Downey last night entered an order transferring all five of the Marcum murder cases to Lee county, and granted the defendants bail in the sum of $10,000. The defendants are ex-County Judge
James Hargis, ex-Sheriff Ed Calka-han, Attorney B. F. French, John Smith and John Almer. They are charged with being accessories to the killing of Marcum.

Curtis Jett was convicted of being the principal and given a life sentence. The cases of the five men charged with being accessories will be tried at Beattyville in the near-future.

Indicted for Murder.

Will Housenman, of Mayfield, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury
at Mayfield for killing Flem Poplin.
He and Poplin had trouble several months ago and he stabbed Poplin,
the wounds proving fatal.

THE IDEA OF PARKS BECOMING POPULAR

Mayor Yeiser is Waiting for a Copy of the New Bill.

It Is Not Decided Whether or Not a Park Tax Can or Will Be Levied This Year.

MAYOR WANTS A GOOD BOARD.

Mayor Yeiser is very much interested in the park bill passed by the legislature and is awaiting further information about it before appointing his commissioners.

"I am pleased beyond measure that at last we are in a way to have a system of parks, or even one park
in Paducah," he said today. "I have been waiting them for years, as you well know and shall enter with enthusiasm into the work of getting them now that we have something to work on and with. I am very anxious to select good men for the board, and have been giving that detailed considerable thought, appreciating in due measure what it means.
I have been fortunate in selecting
all of my other boards, and hope
this one will be the same."

The mayor is thinking of putting a woman on the board, but has not definitely decided on that point. He is asking his friends what they think of the idea. He is in favor of it.

Whether a tax for the parks will be levied this year or not, is a question. Under the provisions of the bill, the council shall, not may, levy
a tax not to exceed five cents on the $100 for the park fund and it is to be deposited with the city treasurer
subject to the commissioners' drafts.
But whether the tax is levied or not,
the new council will take steps to get a site for one park at least, as members of the boards have had it in mind and say they have provided something for that purpose in the contingent fund.

The law will go into effect as soon as approved by the governor, which it is thought will be in a few days.
The commission is to consist of five members who shall serve one, two,
three, four and five years without compensation.

They will have charge of all the parks, the shade trees on the street,
the flowers and fountains and walks
of the city.

The council shall submit to the voters the question of issuing bonds
for parks at the November elections, and it requires two-thirds of those voting to affirm it.

"I am hearing from the knockers
on this proposition, as you can surmise," the mayor said today, "but I am heart and soul for the parks.
We must make Paducah a place to live in. It is now an ideal place for business. Let's make it such for residences."

Wants a Franchise.

The L. and N. is preparing to ask franchise rights to enter Mayfield. It is rushing the survey of the new road to be built from Cairo to Murray and tap the N. C. and St. L.
at the latter place.

Theatrical Notes

New Composition Is Out.

Prof. Harry Gilbert has received from a Cincinnati publishing house copies of "By Sylvan Paths" his latest piano composition. It was played recently by Prof. Gilbert for John Philip Sousa, the noted bandmaster who pronounced it excellent and predicted a bright future for Prof. Gilbert. In the back of "By Sylvan Paths" is "Smiles" by Mr. Herbert Wallerstein, another rising young composer of Paducah.

Mispham Recital.

The announcement of David Mispham's recital at The Kentucky theater on the 21st, needs no extended comment to convince local music lovers that a treat of artistic importance is in store. Mr. Mispham's fame as a baritone, probably the greatest American male singer of recent years, is too well known. In opera, in oratorio and in concert, he has appeared with success such as comes to few, and his popularity abroad is as great as in this country of his birth.

On his present American tour, which is under the direction of London G. Charlton, Mispham is repeating his unique "Cycle of Great Song Cycles" which has won universal favor. Never has the singer been in better voice his wonderful vocal powers being now in their very zenith of development.

Eva Tanguay Saturday.

Up-to-date and positively one of the best is "The Sambo Girl" with Eva Tanguay in the leading role. It is unusual for a woman to step from the ranks of soubrettedom and be a successful star, but this is just what Miss Tanguay has accomplished. Her indomitable ability has carried her far over the heads of all others in her line and although the present season will be the most successful one financially and artistically in this clever woman's experience, she has decided to shelve "The Sambo Girl" at the finish of the season and is now negotiating for a new comedy by a well-known author. Miss Tanguay's engagement will be played at The Kentucky on Saturday night only.

The Mayor of Tokio Coming.

Richard Carle, although not 33 years of age, has written many plays that he has appeared in and has played in many pieces he did not write, but of all these plays none seem to have attained the same distinction as his latest musical comedy "The Mayor of Tokio" that has been lauded by press and public alike everywhere and recognized as the most emphatic financial and artistic success of the present season.

Mr. Carle wrote "The Mayor of Tokio" with one aim principally in view—to give the public a merry melange of everything new and bright. The manager of The Kentucky promises this stellar attraction for Monday, March 19.

The revolutionists here are determined to make the government realize to the full, their demands.

The Masonic and Odd Fellows' Building company at its regular meeting last night elected the following officers for the ensuing year:

TWO OPEN LETTERS

IMPORTANT TO MARRIED WOMEN

Mrs. Mary Dimmick of Washington tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well.

It is with great pleasure we publish the following letters, as they convincingly prove the claim we have so many times made in our columns that Mrs.

Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., is fully qualified to give helpful advice to sick women. Read Mrs. Dimmick's letters.

Her first letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I have been a sufferer for the past eight years with a trouble which first originated from painful periods—the pains were excruciating, with inflammation and ulceration of the female organs. The doctor says I must have an operation or I cannot live. I do not want to submit to an operation if I can possibly avoid it. Please help me."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, Washington, D. C.

Her second letter:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"You will remember my condition when I last wrote you, and that the doctor said I must have an operation or I could not live. I received your kind letter and followed your advice very carefully and am now entirely well. As my case was so serious it seems a miracle that I am cured. I know that I owe not only my health but my life to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to your advice. I can walk miles without an ache or a pain, and I wish every suffering woman would read this letter and realize what you can do for them."—Mrs. Mary Dimmick, 609 and East Capitol Streets, Washington, D. C.

How easy it was for Mrs. Dimmick to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and how little it cost her—a two-cent stamp. Yet how valuable was the reply! As Mrs. Dimmick says—"it saved her life."

Mrs. Pinkham has on file thousands of just such letters as the above, and offers ailing women helpful advice.

CARNIVAL DATE IS APRIL 30-MAY 5

Paducah Association Last Night Selected This Week.

Second Carnival, That of Labor Unions, May Be Held Immediately After.

ARRANGEMENTS UNDER WAY.

Paducah will have two carnivals in quick succession this spring, unless one of the companies draws off until fall.

The Paducah Carnival association has definitely decided on the date of its annual spring carnival. It is to be from April 30th to May 5. This was definitely settled last night. The Paducah association has given carnivals for the past five or six years, and in thus selecting its date, will be first in the field this year.

The association, however, preferred the third week in May, but the Cosmopolitan company, with which it has a contract for the attractions, could not give it that week, and the first week in May was chosen instead.

The other spring carnival is to be that of Central Labor Union. Its date has not been fixed, but it is understood it is likely to be the second week in May. It has not yet made a contract for its attractions.

The Paducah association will proceed to prepare for its carnival as rapidly as possible. Having settled on the company and the date, there is little left to do except advertise the event, and it will be advertised extensively throughout this section of Kentucky, Tennessee and Illinois.

CHARITY CLUB

Will Continue Its Office Through April and Part of May.

The Charity club will continue through April and part of May. The Charity club has done a great deal of good work this winter, but the mildness of the winter caused the funds to be drawn upon very lightly and the expense was less than expected. Miss Corrie Grundy, secretary of the club, stated that the club was not drawn on this year like it was the preceding winter, and that there was less illness among the paupers and fewer applications.

The club has now become a fixture and will continue its work. The funds promised this year have not all been collected, and when they are will afford quite a neat sum with which to start off next year.

Mary Lena, the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. Richard Bell the well known dairyman of the Mayfield road, was painfully scalded yesterday afternoon by the overturning of a bucket of hot water. The little girl was in the churning room when she backed against the bucket and spilled the contents on her right leg. The scalds are not serious.

WORK COMPLETE

And New Wards Will Be Opened at Riverside Hospital in a Short Time.

The new wards in the basement of Riverside hospital, which are for colored patients, have been completed by Contractor Lockwood, and the hospital board will be called some day this week to inspect and receive the work. The city, it is thought, has enough furniture to equip the wards, and if so, they will be available for patients immediately after the work is received.

Ignorant Suffering

There is a surprising ignorance amongst women, on the subject of their own functions. Nine out of ten, suffer dreadfully every month, and think they have to. Do you? If so, you are wrong. No need to suffer, unless you wish to. Functional pain is a sign of functional disease. It can be cured by

WINE OF CARDUI

Woman's Relief

All those bearing-down pains, headaches, backaches, cramps, dizziness, etc., can be cured by Cardui. Not only CAN, but SHOULD. To allow them to come back every month, is to invite loss of health and happiness.

Irregular menstruation, bad breath, poor blood—all results of female weakness, in young or old, can be cured with Cardui. Try it.

"I COULD SCARCELY GET AROUND."

writes Mrs. F. J. Ashburn, of Clarksville, Tenn.: "for pain at my monthly periods. I had bearing-down pains, head ached every day and my back hurt so I could scarcely stand. I was tired and run down, and thought I couldn't live. Since taking Cardui, however, I have greatly improved and feel better than I have for years. If it were not for Cardui I might now be under the ground."

NEEDLESS ALARM.

Here's a poor man coughing away his lungs—at least so his relatives think.

It's cough, cough, hack, hack, hack; all day and some times all night.

"Must be consumption," think the alarmed ones.

And of course, there is always a possibility that they may be right. But in most cases, they're wrong; because Dyspepsia is so much more common than consumption.

And dyspepsia causes chronic cough, just like consumption.

The dyspeptic cough, it is well to remember, can be quickly cured by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

No need to be alarmed about it, unless you make up your mind to neglect it.

Then, indeed, you must look out for danger; for the Dyspeptic cough often grows into a consumptive cough if neglected, by the constant lung irritation which it causes.

So the best way is to waste no time, but begin at once the use of these famous tablets, the timely use of which has saved many a sick person from ending in a consumptive's grave.

Remember, however, if you please, that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will positively NOT cure consumption, but prevent it.

Of course, they can always be depended on to cure all the other symptoms of indigestion.

They are a universal cure, for one universal disease.

They cure nothing else; but what they do, they do thoroughly and well.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the result of the most thorough investigation into the inside causes and the cure, of indigestion, that has ever been attempted.

They have solved a problem, the answer to which a hundred thousand physicians in America are today groping for in vain.

They cure the most severe, long-continued chronic, complicated cases of indigestion that can be found.

They are far ahead of the most modern medical practice, because the most successful physicians of the day in the cure of disease of the digestive organs are using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets as a basis for their success.

They stoop to Stuart's to conquer. And Stuart's lift them up, out of the rut.

If, therefore, you are a victim of this dread disease, which counts its victims by the million, brace up and take new heart, for you cannot fail to cure your trouble, if you will only put your faith in this great remedy, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

They are positively, frankly, truly, a sure and permanent relief.

Try them.

NO FAIR TRIAL

Is Expected By Caleb Powers in the Kentucky Courts.

Cincinnati, O., March 14.—When seen at the Newport Jail, Caleb Powers stated that he was greatly disappointed in the decision of the supreme court. Powers added:

"I am, indeed, sorry to learn that the supreme court has decided that it has no jurisdiction in my case. A fair trial is all I have asked—all I have wanted. I am innocent of the charge against me and expect to fight this case as long as I live; but I will never be given a fair trial in the Kentucky courts."

MARSHALL ROAD TAX IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Judge Reed Dissolves the Injunction Against Sheriff.

A Faction Objected to the $1 Tax and Sought a Permanent Injunction Against the Sheriff.

JUDGE REED HOLDS TAX VALID

Circuit Judge William Reed yesterday afternoon decided the case of John Garner against Dave Reeves, sheriff of Marshall county, dissolving an injunction taken out against Sheriff Reeves to restrain him from collecting a tax of $1 on each person in Marshall county, of "road age."

In Marshall county the roads may be worked by residents of the county or by a tax, and the latter method has been employed. Every person between the ages of 18 and 50 years is liable to be pressed into service for manual labor to work the roads, or must furnish a substitute or pay $1 as a tax for his part of the work.

Garner was a leader of one faction which believed the law unconstitutional and brought the injunction suit. Judge Reed after hearing the arguments, decided that the law was constitutional and so decided, dissolving the injunction.

The suit was brought while Mr. Reeves was sheriff and he has since gone out of office, but the suit was continued in his name as the sheriff. It is not known whether or not an appeal will be taken.

LIGHTED PIPE

Causes Explosion of Powder and a Few Other Things.

Morganfield, Ky., March 14.—Smoking his pipe, Mr. Lawrence Gardner went into the store of Everett Bingham to buy gunpowder.

When he came out, he carried with him a goodly portion of the sides and end of the building.

His clothing also came out at the same time as Mr. Gardner, but most of it in different directions.

He did not even have on his collar and tie, but, although the cold wave had struck town, Mr. Gardner was not chilly, for what clothing he had left on him was burning.

He became chilly directly after, however, for his friends threw him in a trough of water.

The doctor says he is not badly hurt, although his face is much swollen.

The damage to the store amounts to several hundred dollars. This includes two kegs of powder.

Starving to Death.

Because her stomach was so weakened by useless drugging that she could not eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. Section Hand Hit by Train.

Blackford, Ky., March 14.—Marshall McKee, a section hand in the service of the Illinois Central railroad company, was struck by a train and probably fatally injured. Just how the accident occurred is not known, but a track walker found the wounded man near the track in an unconscious condition. McKee was seen in Blackford Saturday and was intoxicated. On his return home he reached Nunn's switch, on the Crittenden county side of Tradewater river, where the accident occurred. He had unconsciously crawled some distance after being struck, but was not able to speak a word to his friends afterwards.

After trying a number of remedies that gave me very little relief, if any, I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Alvey & List's drug store and began to take them as directed. I found them to be the very thing for my trouble. In a few days I noticed a great change in my condition. VICIOUS ASSAULT ON GROCER BACKER

Negro Boy Struck Him in the Head With Nut.

Expected When the Grocer Fell Unconscious to Rob the Cash Drawer and Store.

MR. BACKER NOT MUCH HURT.

The police are investigating a very queer case supposed to have been attempted robbery, and are raking the South Side for a negro boy who is supposed to be guilty of a vicious attack on Mr. George C. Backer, the grocer at Ninth and husbands streets.

Yesterday morning about 9 o'clock Mr. Backer was standing in his store reading a paper. He had the left side of his face turned to the door when some one entered. Before Mr. Backer could turn to see who it was, he received a blow on the side of the face just below the temple which rendered him partially unconscious.

He claims that he then saw a negro boy, who appeared to be about 18 years old, running out of the door. The missile used was a large nut weighing eight ounces and with six sides. It was thrown a distance of about 15 feet. Mr. Backer did not become totally unconscious and when the boy saw this, ran.

Mr. Backer presumes that the negro expected to knock him senseless and then rob him, but failing, decamped.

Officers Aaron Hurley and Henry Slagery arrested Richard Miller, a small colored boy, but was not the right one and the police are still searching. Mr. Backer says that he is sure robbery was the object of the assault. Had the nut struck a little higher he might have been killed, but as it is only a flesh wound was inflicted and Mr. Backer is able to be about.

BRYAN'S NAME

NOT ALLOWED TO APPEAR IN ANY OF HEARST'S PAPERS.

Said to Be a Breach in the Friendship of the Democratic Leaders.

Chicago Ill., March 14.—A break with a surprising sequence, it was learned today, has occurred in the former close friendship between Wm. Jennings Bryan, twice democratic nominee for president, and William Randolph Hearst, energetic seeker of the nomination. As a result, the name of Mr. Bryan—still regarded by thousands as the democratic leader—has been barred by Mr. Hearst who aspires to be the leader, from appearing in any of his newspapers.

This state of affairs has caused resentment among the numerous democrats who admire Mr. Bryan. Resentment has been made strong by the fact that Mr. Hearst appealed to the democrats in the St. Louis convention to nominate him to the place on the ticket that had been occupied by Mr. Bryan, and made his appeal particularly to the elements in the party who acknowledge Bryan as a leader. In the opinion of Mr. Bryan's friends Mr. Hearst's remarkable action in excluding from the columns of his newspapers the name of a man he twice supported for president, whose principles he lauded, and for whom he professed a great personal regard, has been inspired by feelings of personal jealousy alone. Mr. Bryan, say these men, is recognized by Hearst as the man whom he will have to defeat if he is to be nominated for president at the next democratic national convention.

AUSTRIAN ASTHMA CURE.

Patients Cured by Ascatoo in Continental Europe Numbered by Thousands.

Vienna March 14.—Great honor has been bestowed upon the discoverer of the Austrian remedy ascatoo, which not only relieves asthma, catarrh and bronchitis, but permanently cures these diseases, so that they will never return again. The fact that the dose of ascatoo is only seven drops and that it causes no stomach disorder has been commented on favorably by advanced medical scientists.

Previous to this discovery, patients suffering from respiratory diseases, were only able to obtain temporary relief. For the convenience of patients living in the United States, a permanent depot has been established at 32 West 25th street, New York City, known as the Austrian dispensary. A trial treatment of ascatoo will be sent free by mail to any request and medical advice will also be furnished without charge.

THE POWERS CASE.

Caleb Powers has lost his case in the supreme court of the United States, but not because he did not deserve to have it taken from the state courts of Kentucky. Powers secured a removal to the federal court on the grounds that he had not been accorded equal protection under the law. Justice Harlan held that the remedy for wrongs of that character is in the state court, and ultimately in the supreme court upon writ of error. Justice Harlan also discussed the contention that there has been a conspiracy to take Powers' life, and that he could not secure a fair trial. He said:

"It is true that, looking alone at the case, as made by the petition for removal, the trials of the accused make an exhibition of misconduct on the part of the administrative officers connected with those trials, which may well shock all who love justice and recognize the right of every human being accused of crime to be tried according to law. Further, the case, as made by the record, it must be conceded, tends to show, if it does not justify the belief, that administrative officers, having connection with the trial of the accused, had it in mind at each trial to exclude from the jury, so far as it was possible to do so, every person, however competent, who belonged to the same political party as the accused."

The Louisville Herald says in regard to Powers:

Kentucky's opportunity has, with the relegation of the Powers case to the state courts, come. Time was when justice was denied no man in this grand and fair-minded commonwealth. Time never was when a fairly constituted Kentucky jury would deny any man, however strong the case made out against him, that just consideration due under the law.

Caleb Powers has been three times tried, and the verdict in each trial has been, by a higher state court, set aside. He is now to have another trial before the state courts. We believe that the judges of this state compare, as a body, favorably with those of any other. We believe that a Kentucky jury, fairly constructed, is the equal of any on earth.

In the case of Caleb Powers, for six long years a prisoner, let bygones be bygones. No more criminalizations and recriminations. Time for a trial against whose fairness not a breath of doubt will issue. Governor Beckham, who is yet young, with, we believe, a splendid future yet in store, owes it to himself to see that executive authority be used for justice, pure and simple.

A judge who will try the case impartially is not hard to find. Officials who will not abuse authority by eliminating Republicans as such from jury service ought to be found.

With a fair judge and an impartial jury, from which no man is kept because of politics, Powers will have a fair trial. All Kentucky will accept the verdict. Justice will be strengthened throughout the length and breadth of the commonwealth. No excuse then for Governor Taylor and fellow fugitives to remain in Indiana. No ground then for charges all over the land against Kentucky fairness. No room then for doubt that Kentuckians love order and detest injustice. Every American will then see that here, no less than elsewhere, justice through trial by jury is worshipped and observed.

Give Caleb Powers justice. If guilty, find him so and punish him. If not guilty release him. Flat justice must coexist. Kentucky shall thus keep her head high among sister states as a center and a citadel of honor, humanity and American fair play.

The Lexington Herald asks: "If Frankfort must govern all the villages of the state, wouldn't it be well to have two legislatures; one to manage the towns by a system of barter and exchange, and another to attend to state business?"

Rivermen are confident that a coalboating stage will materialize as soon as the snow melts which fell Sunday night. The fall in the mountains is sufficient, providing it melts rapidly.

Federal Judge K. M. Landis ruled at Chicago Saturday that when a boat is placed in such a position that it will cost more than one-half of the original price of the boat to pull it out of danger and make repairs, the owners of the boat are justified in abandoning it and calling upon the insurance companies for the full amount of the insurance. The decision was made in the case of the steamer Argo, owned by the Graham & Morton company, of Chicago, which was driven ashore near Holland, Mich., last fall.

The rise was not sufficient to lift the Louisiana out of the corn field above Evansville. It looks as if she was there to stay.

The Harvester and tow are coming down.

The Georgia Lee will enter the Memphis trade in place of the Snicker Lee next week.

THE HOLLAND CASE WILL GO TO TRIAL

Both Sides Announced Ready When Case Was Called.

Special Judge Bradburn Ordered Special Venue of 150 Men to Report.

ADJOURNED UNTIL TOMORROW

The indications are that the noted Holland murder case will be tried this time.

At Henton this morning when Special Judge Bradburn, of Bowling Green, called the case, both sides announced ready for trial. The court ordered a special venire of 150 men summoned by the sheriff to report tomorrow morning, and it is believed trial will be entered into at once. Judge Bradburn arrived last night and left Paducah this morning for Henton to preside in the case. Judge Eli Brown, of Owensboro, was special judge at previous trials.

It is believed that considerable difficulty will be experienced in getting jury, owing to the widespread notoriety attained by the case. The defendant, former Sheriff W. W. Holland, of Murray, Calloway county, is charged with shooting and killing livery driver Keys, leader of an opposing political faction. He claims Keys had an open knife at the time, and when he found Keys outside the door where Holland and his friends were holding a political meeting a quarrel arose over the alleged charge that Keys was eavesdropping.

The case was transferred from Calloway county on change of venue to Marshall county. At one trial Holland was convicted of manslaughter and given five years, but secured a new trial.

Most of those who went to Henton this morning to attend the case returned this afternoon and will go back tomorrow.

The attorneys in the case are John S. Hendrick, Paducah; J. B. Garrett, Calro; J. H. Coleman, Murray, and Will Linn, Murray, for the defense, and Commonwealth's Attorney John G. Lovett, Henton; Abe Thompson, Murray; Sam Crossland, Mayfield, and William Reed, Paducah, for the prosecution.

Messrs. Waggener and Downs went east to Louisville last night and the other members of the party have gone south to continue their inspections.

The local I. C. shops have a perfect fire fighting system and have a drill every week. Mr. Clarence Knowles, superintendent of water supply of the Louisville division of the I. C., returned to the division this morning after a brief business trip to the city.

I. C. EXCURSIONS.

A Number of Business Men Do Not Believe They Can Be Made to Pay Certain Licenses.

THREE WARRANTS ISSUED.

Exall & Co., commission brokers, were warranted and arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of breach of ordinance by operating a business without paying a license but the case was continued.

Exall with Roy McKinnay, another broker, were warranted yesterday at the instance of License Inspector Leitchard and also was Mr. C. W. Ingram, a milk dealer, who has refused to pay a license. It is proposed to make a test case out of both the Exall and Ingram cases.

"The commission brokers take out a wholesale grocers' license and claim that this covers their business operations, while the wholesale grocers claim they are doing a dual business and should be made to pay a double license—one for wholesale groceries and commission brokers," the inspector explained.

"Ingram and a few other milk dealers claim that farmers who come into the city only twice a week with milk are not required to pay a license."

"There is a great deal of dissatisfaction resulting from the license ordinance and more warrants in other branches will probably have to be issued, but just what lines they will be in I cannot say at present. I have not seen them all and ascertained what they intend to do, and it may be a week or longer before I have decided just whom else to warrant."

RAILROAD EMPLOYEES

Cautioned Against Too Free a Use of Telegraph Wires.

The I. C. road has sat down on its employees for the excessive use of telegraph privileges and has issued a bulletin instructing employees relative to the use of the I. C. wires and the wires of the Postal and Western Union companies.

There is an agreement between the railroad and telegraph companies by which the railroad is given a reduction in telegraphic rates and allowed a certain amount of free service. Every month the road has to pay rates for excessive use of the wires and the expense has become great.

The bulletin instructs against using the wires of either railroad company or telegraph company except when absolutely necessary and even then to abbreviate and use the condensed code when possible.

LIVELY RESPONSE.

To the Call for Recruits—A Dozen Enlisted in One Day.

There seems to be quite a rush to join the army, and Sergeant Noyes, at the local station at the New Richmond Monday had twelve to enlist. Those sworn in by Lieut. Reed are as follows:

Herve Leonard and Lindell Simpson, of New Columbia, Ill.; James Watson and Tom Wharton, of Paducah. They have gone to Jefferson barracks, Mo. John Hunt, Hal Crouch, C. C. Dollar and J. M. Hoagland of Metropolis, Ill.; S. A. Sullivan and Frank Burks, of Paducah; Oscar Pearce and William Mathis, of New Columbia, Ill., have been accepted and are waiting for the lieutenant who is due here next week to swear them in.

CLAIM CHECK SYSTEM.

Goes Into Effect in Baggage Department of I. C. Tomorrow.

Tomorrow the claim check system will be inaugurated on the I. C. road here and all persons who send baggage over the I. C. will have to adopt it.

The claim check system is simple and precludes the danger of getting baggage mixed or lost if the owner is always cautious and holds on to his checks. The volume of business done out of Paducah has caused this step to be necessary. The transfer companies have been supplied with claim checks and are prepared for the inauguration of the system.

MANY SIGNERS

TO A PETITION ASKING FOR A DOWNTOWN TICKET OFFICE.

Commercial Club Has Started the Move and Is Having Great Success.

The Commercial club today began circulating a petition to the Illinois Central railroad, which will be forwarded through General Agent John T. Donovan, of the city, asking for the establishment of a downtown ticket office in Paducah.

Thus far the petition has been passed around in the business portion of the city only, but it is being extensively signed, and no one hesitates when it is presented to him. It is expected to have sufficient signatures to it to impress the railroad with the demand that is felt by the people for a downtown office.

ENCAMPMENT SUPPLIES.

Paducah Transactions Investigated and Pronounced All Right.

The recent legislative investigation of state institutions and departments, included an inquiry into the contracts let in Paducah last summer for the supplies for the state military encampment at Wallace park.

That everything was satisfactory is indicated by the following report on the subject:

"Also the matter of purchasing supplies by the adjutant general's department, for the recent encampment of the state troops, at Paducah, was brought to the attention of the committee, and that department was requested to exhibit the vouchers from the parties, who furnished the supplies for said encampment. This request was complied with, and said vouchers showed that the prices paid were reasonable and satisfactory to the committee."

CASE REVERSED

And the City of Paducah May Have to Pay $500 to Contractor.

Frankfort, Ky., March 14.—The appellate court today reversed the McCracken circuit court case of Ed C. Terrell versus city of Paducah. The action was to enforce payment against the city for street improvements made under contract.

This is a case in which Contractor Terrell graded and graveled Washington street at First. He obtained a verdict against the elevator company and marine ways for half the cost, but the court here refused to give a judgment against the city for the other half and an appeal was taken.

The decision of the appellate court today indicates that the city will have to pay the other half of the improvement, amounting to about $500. Hagby and Martin were for Mr. Terrell.

Taken to Reform School.

Detective Wm. Baker left this morning for Lexington, Ky., with Dewey Troutman, the eight year old boy who has in the past occasioned the police much trouble. He was arrested some months ago for stealing several horses and buggies and had quite a reputation when he came here for causing the police of St. Louis annoyance. He was released upon his parents' promise to exercise more control over him, and was not prosecuted for stealing the horses. They have found that they could do nothing with him, however, and decided to send him to the reform school. Dewey is the boy saved from being crushed to death beneath a horse's feet some months ago at Fifth and Broadway by two chorus girls who happened to be passing and snatched him up just in time.

W. B. SMITH HAS PAID ALL MONEY BACK

Settles With Western Bank for About $47,000.

Turns Over $10,000 Cash and Valuable Property Near Helena, Ark., to Bank.

IS CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL

Louisville, Ky., March 14.—Details were completed yesterday between W. B. Smith, attorney for W. H. Smith, formerly of Paducah, and former president of the Western National bank, and the latter institution, whereby all the claims against the indicted president were settled and a full accounting made. Although Mr. Smith is thus relieved of obligation to the bank, he will be tried at the October term of the federal court, and Attorney W. M. Smith is confident that he will be acquitted. Mr. Smith was short between $45,000 and $50,000 in his accounts.

"Mr. Smith did not embezzle a cent," he said, "and the most that can be proved against him is that he made loans on poor security. He was a stockholder in several concerns, and as president of the bank loaned these firms money. When they failed the claims of the bank were unsecured, and it was unable to realize on them. Mr. Smith realized that he should repay the amount the bank lost, and has either secured those claims or paid them in full."

As the stockholders of the bank were heavily assessed in order to make good the shortage caused by Mr. Smith's unwise loans, it is likely, since the money has been restored, that they will be repaid, as according to Mr. Smith's attorney, the bank will not be out a cent.

W. B. Smith and his attorney admitted that the company would lose about $30,000 through his transactions. The banking officials and the bank examiner, who went over the accounts, declared that the losses would exceed $50,000. The matter was carefully gone over and several pieces of paper which W. B. Smith declared good were examined. These finally were included in the losses sustained by the bank, as W. H. Smith announced his intention of shouldering all responsibility. After this examination a compromise on between $46,000 and $47,000 was agreed upon. W. B. Smith then turned over $10,000 in cash and began the preparations for the deed of the Arkansas property to the bank.

Owing to the variable value of Arkansas land, it was impossible for the bank officials and W. B. Smith's attorneys to agree upon a fixed value. The property is timber land and, it is said, is increasing in value. For this reason a second compromise was agreed upon. Assuming that the property was of sufficient value to cover the remainder of the losses sustained by the bank after subtracting the cash settlement, W. B. Smith agreed to deed the property to the bank, receiving in return a contract by which should the property be sold at a price more than the losses of the banking institution, W. B. Smith is to receive the difference. The land is about 60 miles west of Helena, Ark. "You can say that the settlement has been made."

W. M. Smith expressed the belief that his client will be dismissed, when the case finally is called at the October term.

"Of course this settlement does not affect the legal prosecution," he said, "and W. B. Smith had no such intentions in mind during the negotiations for this settlement. It is admitted that he erred in judgment concerning the operation of the bank's affairs, and when the case finally comes to trial, it will be shown that any loss suffered by the bank was not caused by any intention on the part of W. B. Smith. His methods may have been in error and at times he showed bad judgment, but he has shouldered every possible loss the bank can sustain, through his transaction, which in itself, is an evidence of his right intentions."

W. B. Smith has been in Louisville for the last two months, and during much of that time has been in the office of his attorney, arranging the details of the settlement and preparing for the final transfer of the property. Officials of the Western National bank are well satisfied with the settlement.

Tracing a Murderer

Instances In Which Crime Was Uncovered by Curious Means.

A Fragment of Gun Wadding Which Led to the Detection of a Culprit—A Singular Coincidence.

A recent murder mystery recalls a case that made an immense sensation in France three years after Waterloo. In the year 1818 M. Martin, receiver of taxes at Bigny, was murdered on the highway and at midday, shot through the heart, while returning to his home. The motive for the crime was obviously robbery, as M. Martin's purse, his watch and his ring were carried off by his assassin. Though the murder was committed on the public highway and in broad daylight, no one witnessed the crime, heard the shot or noticed in the neighborhood any suspicious strangers.

After the most exhaustive investigation only a slight, single and singular

clue was discovered by the police. Part of the paper wadding with which the charge of the gun had been rammed down was found in the wound, a kind of pumice-stained on the surface with blood and beneath with powder, but underneath these stains some writing was discerned of a curiously technical character. Under the date of 1803 were found an entry of the delivery of some glass, of which the fragment of wadding was a scrap of the invoice. This suggested to the detectives a suspicion of the son-in-law of the proprietor, who had been for ten years out of the country. Search was made for him, and he was found on his knees in prayer. When arrested he not only confessed the crime, but showed the officers, hidden under the thatch of his house, the missing watch and ring.

It is curious to find a similar case recorded thus in Lord Eldon's "Anecdote Book": "I remember in one case where I was counsel for a long time the evidence did not appear to touch the prisoner at all, and he looked about him with the most perfect unconcern, seeming to think himself safe. At last the surgeon was called, who stated that the deceased had been killed by a shot, a gunshot in the head, and he produced the matted hair and stuff cut from and taken out of the wound. It was all hardened with blood. A basin of warm water was brought into court, and as the blood was gradually softened a piece of printed paper appeared, the wadding of the gun, which proved to be the half of a ballad. The other half had been found in the man's pocket when he was taken. He was hanged."

Here is another old case of unlooked for conviction. I remember one man taken up twelve years after the murder he had committed. He had made his escape, and, though every search was made, he could not be found. Twelve years afterward the brother of the murdered man was at Liverpool in a public house. He fell asleep and was awakened by some one picking his pocket. He started, exclaiming, "Good heaven, the man that killed my brother twelve years ago!" The murderer had enlisted as a soldier and gone to India immediately after the deed was committed, and he had just landed at Liverpool on his return when his first act was to pick the pocket of the brother of the man he had murdered twelve years before.

Another instance of belated justice is that which at last rehabilitated a servant girl in Belfast after she had served out a severe sentence for theft of goods from her master's house. Her master himself was so convinced of her innocence that he interceded successfully for the shortening of her sentence and took her again into his service when she came out of jail. Shortly after, she had reentered his service as she was passing through the butchers' market in Belfast a man tapped her on her shoulder and whispered into her ear, "Pretty well before and not amiss behind!" Hurrying home, she told her master she had found the thief. "How?" he asked. "Well, sir," she said, "on that Sunday when the things were stolen I was dressing alone, as I thought, in my room, and when I had dressed I took a good view of myself in the glass and said, 'Pretty well before and not amiss behind!' The man who robbed the house must have been concealed in the garret next my room and there have overheard me, for today as I was passing through the butchers' market he whispered these words in my ear." The police were set upon the man's track, some of the missing goods were found in his house, and on this evidence he was convicted and broken on the wheel.

In the reign of Charles II, a French refugee named De Moulins was sentenced to be hanged for coining upon evidence that must have staggered his own consciousness of innocence. It was indisputably proved that De Moulins had given out false coin, had returned counterfeit coins to persons from whom he had received money as though they had passed it off upon him, had a heap of counterfeit coin in one drawer of his bureau and in another a mixed heap of good and bad money, while all the implements of coining—mills, molds, aqua regia—were discovered also in his escritoire. De Moulins's defense was that he had received all the base coin from others, had sifted some of it and thrown it into one drawer, while in the other drawer lay the money, good and bad, which he had not had time to sift. As for the implements of coining, he could not for his life imagine how they came to be in his escritoire. The judge swept scornfully aside this preposterous defense, and, the jury finding De Moulins guilty without quitting the box, he was sentenced to be hanged. But he was not hanged at all. At the foot of the gallows he was reprieved and pardoned on the testimony of a Mrs. Williams, the widow of a seal engraver, whose death in a street accident had so shocked her as to occasion through a miscarriage her own death. In dying she made the following confession: Williams and three others had lived for years by counterfeit coining, and to get rid of some of this base money one of them had become De Moulins's servant. He used to open with false keys the escritoire where his master kept his money and to substitute for it its seeming equivalent in base coin.

Scotland Yard would no doubt soon take Sir Comm Doyle into its compass as an American detective consulted it. L. Stevenson. Arthur Johnstone in his "Stevenson in the Pacific" tells the striking tale. As they sat together one evening on the veranda of an inn at Waukiki the detective confided to Stevenson a case of extreme difficulty he had in hand and also his theory of its solution. As Stevenson hardly seemed to attend, for he sat looking dreamily at the sea, the detective left him to have a chat with the more responsive landlord. On his return to the veranda, however, Stevenson suddenly roused himself to say: "I think I have solved that riddle of yours. You see, it's just like writing a story. If you go on it right, it will work out right. Now, your theory does not do at all."

The detective did not at first think anything of Stevenson's theory of the case. It was during even for a theory and dangerous to work if it did not happen to come off. But on thinking it well over, with Stevenson's shilling eyes fixed intently on his face, the professional began to believe there was something in it. When Stevenson at last asked him what he had thought best to do about it he said, "Well, sir, I shall try your theory, but if it doesn't win you and I will lose between us the $1,000 fee I am to be paid for a conviction." At this Stevenson laughed and said, "Sir, if it doesn't win I will pay you the $1,000 and throw you the theory for nothing." But it won.

'GOOD HEAVEN, THE MAN THAT KILLED MY BROTHER!'

$1,000 DONATED

Towards the Purchase of Rescue Mission, of South Third.

Pledges for over $1,000 have been made to Rev. H. W. Chiles, of Rescue Mission, towards the fund to purchase the property. Rev. Chiles feels much encouraged and believes that the necessary amount, $1,000, will be raised.

Rev. Chiles has rejected good offers at both Kansas City, Mo., and Tampa, Fla., to come and take charge of the mission work. He prefers to remain in Paducah, however, where for eight years he has done such excellent work, assisted by his wife.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora Stephens, of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by W. B. McPherson, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CHEAPER FARM LAND.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities for Securing Homes. Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and fruits, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash. Uplands more rolling, lighter soil adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums, grapes, berries—also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5.00 to $10.00 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap. This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range pure water, mild climate. A healthy growing country, with a great future.

HAMLIN GARLAND

COPYRIGHT, 1903, BY HAMLIN GARLAND

Again and again they were forced to lie flat on their faces with their lips touching the earth in order to breathe; but at last the smoldering material was all hoisted, the mine cleared, and they were able to look about them. The iron beams had caught and held a huge mass of rock which the concussion had shaken from the mouth of the mine, and to dig through this was the task that now confronted them; but the air of the shaft having cleared, volunteers thickened, and the exhausted leaders were able to rest their aching limbs and listen for signals.

They were mightily cheered by the faint but unmistakable sound of knocking. The imprisoned ones were culling in the well tried fashion—by hammering on the rock with their sledges. They beat cheerfully, as if seeking to reassure their rescuers.

An hour later the rescuers could hear the voices of those beneath, and it was hardly more than midday before they began to lift them out two by two in the big bucket.

Ann, hearing their shouts, came down the path with Nora to meet them. Kelly's eyes were dim with tears, and Ann's heart went out to him as he shouted, "They are all here, and unhurt!"

"But you are hurt?" she asked Raymond, with anxious, timorous voice, peering at his torn and trembling hands.

"No—only tired. How is the patient?" he asked as they started toward the cabin together.

"He is awake, but his pulse is still rapid, and he is very restless."

"What does the doctor say?"

"He insists there is no danger. I think he means it. But, oh, that poor boy is so sick!" She checked herself. "This will be a very serious loss to you, will it not?"

He strove to answer lightly. "Oh, yes; but our vein is there just the same. Luckily they couldn't blow that away."

At the door of the bungalow he turned. "I must leave you for a time. I must repair damages"—he looked at his hands and arms—"and I want to talk with my men."

Raymond found his men in the barracks, discussing with characteristic calmness the general situation while waiting for their dinner. And when Perry shouted "grab pile" in cow camp phrase each man hustled to his place with cheerful clatter. Raymond drew up with the rest, and for a few minutes no word spoken referred to the disaster.

As the first man, well filled, pushed back his chair Raymond called out: "Boys, I want to say a word before any of you go out. A council of war is necessary at this minute."

Those who had risen took seats again, and all faced his way. As he looked at them his throat filled with a realization of their loyal service, and he could not find voice for a few moments, but sat with bowed head, rolling a bit of bread between his fingers. At last he resolutely cleared his throat and began harshly: "Well, boys, the game halves right here. You see where Kelly & Raymond are—they're flat. We've got a good mine if we could work it, but we can't. Just about every dollar we had to spare went into that machinery, and our ore shipments were just beginning. I've been doing a little figuring, and I find we can pretty near pay all that's due you, but we can't do any more. If this strike were settled we might get somebody to come in and help us put up a new power plant, but as things shape up at this present time we're up a stump, as they say back in Ohio. So I guess we'll have to let you go." There was a movement among the men which he felt as a protest, but he continued: "I hate to do this, especially now in the winter, but you can see how it is. If I were in your places I would go to Reese and the other independents and stick by 'em; help them fight this thing through on fair play lines."

His slight pause brought no response. When he began again his voice was softened. "And, boys, ride up and tell Matt a good word. He's hard hit."

His voice trembled dangerously, and he was forced to stop.

The tension was eased away by Nary, one of the older men, who broke out with deep lunged profanity in order to conceal his good heart.

"Well, I don't know how the rest of you feel, but I want to turn right in and put this mine into shape again and lynch the dogs that blew us up!"

Raymond lifted his hand. "Hold on, boys. Don't be too quick on the trigger. Keep cool till I ride up on the hill and take a look around and have a little talk with Munro. We must rally all the independents, which will take time, and, besides, you must remember I have a very sick boy on my hands, and there is Baker, who needs care. Don't rush. Let me go up and see what the sheriff seems likely to do. As I've told you before, I've no theory about the labor question. I never was up against it before, and I'm a little uncertain. I've always believed in the best man winning. I picked up my fellows because you were likely chaps. I'm paying you the highest wages going because you earn it. You're satisfied, you say, and I don't see why we are not privileged to go ahead in our own way. I haven't felt any need of going into this fight for the benefit of the crowd till now. It looks now as though we should take a hand. Anyhow, we'll give Munro another chance to do us justice, and if he don't, then—well, we'll try some other plan." He shook off this disagreeable clank of doubt. "But be that as it may, boys, I shall never forget the good work you've done for me when you knew the crowd was against you."

As they stepped out into the warm afternoon sun Kelly, with a jocular note in his voice, remarked, "Well, Hobbie, we're gents at leisure. Nothing to do now but play the nurse"—here his voice swiftly changed—"or do battle."

"If it were not for the women and the sick I'd fight. We have nothing to lose now, and the boys are hot for it. Have you been up the street?"

"No, I have not."

"I don't see what we can do with these two wounded men and the boy and the women on our hands. Matt, the real heart of this opposition is now in one man. If he were taken away these rowdy miners would scatter like grouse."

Kelly turned quickly. "You mean Munro?"

"I do! I'm going up to have an interview with him."

Kelly laid a big hand on his arm. "You're takin' a big risk. Let me go instead."

"No, you must stay here. I am going, and I am going unarmed. I am safer with empty hands, Matt. They will not shoot an unarmed man. I'm going to make one more appeal to Munro."

Mounting his horse, Raymond rode rapidly out along the ridge toward the hill on which the fortification stood. He passed now and then a group of men who knew him, and while one or two greeted him pleasantly all the others met his glance with menace. He felt the hot breath of their hate, but passed on without haste, regretting his action in leaving his revolvers behind him.

The camp had eaten its midday meal—for even in times of war men must eat; the miners had hastily devoured their rough food and were swarming on the hillside overlooking the sheriff's encampment. The vedettes were bivouacked in a small grove of firs to the left and a little below the fort (which was merely a log corral banked with dirt), and Munro was directing the shovel brigade at work on the walls of the redoubt, which was growing rapidly under the brisk movement of chattering miners.

As Raymond neared the crowd of on-lookers he recognized Denver Dan and one or two other horsemen, but for the most part the spectators were strangers and plainly hostile.

He had drawn rein to pass to the left when Brock stepped forth on foot and roughly called out: "What's your business up here?"

"I want to find Munro."

"Well, you go back to your shack and keep out of this."

Raymond smiled. "When did you become roadmaster?"

Brock raised his voice so that the rapidly gathering crowd might hear. "Here's the spy that warned the sheriff not to come on the freight train. Here's the man that ruined our plans. You can't deny that," he said, laying a hand on the horse's rein.

"I don't intend to deny it," replied Raymond, facing the lowering faces of the close packed throng as a mass of might face a pack of coyotes, "and what's more, I don't intend to apologize for it."

"Lynch him!" shouted some fellow at the back. "Lynch the spy!"

Raymond had been in danger many times in his life, but never had he looked down into such hate inflamed faces as now encircled him. The old reckless heart came back to him. He lifted his voice in appeal: "Have I a friend here? If I have, let him throw me a gun! I want to go fighting!"

"Here you are!" called a stranger, and a big, glittering revolver came whirling over the heads of the mob.

Raymond caught it deftly, and with the touch of its handle to his palm his eyes narrowed and his white teeth set. "Now let the dance begin! Some of you will cross the range with me!"

Denver Dan attempted a diversion. "Look out, fellows; here comes Jack!"

Munro's name and the pistol in Raymond's hand induced a pause. The foremost of the assailants turned toward the captain of the vedettes, riding swiftly to the rescue. "What's going on here?" he shouted as he reached the outskirts of the crowd.

Brock was ready. "Here's the man who has played with our plans all along, pretending to be neutral when he was nothing but a dirty, stinking spy from the very beginning."

"Liar!" shouted Raymond, and his boot toe caught the ruffian in the mouth and he staggered back among his fellows with a hoarse cry. For a moment he was dazed, then, raging, furious, his mouth streaming with blood, he jerked his revolver from its holder, intent to kill, but a hand clutched his arm, and Munro, spurring his horse into the mass of irate men, called out: "Brock, I'll kill you if you shoot this is a friend of mine—you know that! He's stood out against us all along, but he's been on the square. I sent him to the Springs myself."

"Liar!" shouted Raymond.

Brock wiped the blood from his lips. "Maybe you asked him to wire the sheriff last night. He admits he sent a messenger to warn him."

Cries of frenzied rage broke forth again, and the crowd surged against the two horses. Furious, throaty cries broke forth.

"Kill him!" "Hang him!"

Munro blew a signal to his men, and his voice rang out clear and sharp. "The first man that reaches a hand out of that circle loses it. If any lynching is done, I preside over it. Dan, come in here—you, too, Cook."

The two cowboys spurred their horses into the circle, and the four armed and resolute men faced the angry mob and held it at bay. Raymond, even in this hour of danger, regretted Munro's assistance; it put him under an obligation which weakened him. With his mind filled with conflicting considerations, he waited while the swift clatter of a hundred hoofs drew near and a squad of Munro's picked men surrounded their captain.

When they were clear of danger Raymond drew rein toward Munro. "Jack, you saved my scalp today, and I'm grateful; that's why I don't want to see you in the hands of the sheriff. I want you to pull out this minute. Come, now, this is the last appeal. Fly the coop. If you don't, they'll hang you. What do you hope to accomplish? Face the situation. You are the one to hit the trail, and hit it like a wolf. What do you hope to do?"

"I expect to hold this camp until the syndicate yields to the demands of the miners or until the governor interferences."

"Then what?"

"Then I step down and out."

"Suppose the sheriff attacks tonight?"

"I will send him back a-whirling. And now let me take an inning. You mustn't come up here again. I can't answer for what would happen next time. You stay where you are, and listen! Take care of yourself. So long, and take good care of the lady."

California Fruit Damaged.

They Stand Alone

Standing out in bold relief, all alone, and as a conspicuous example of open frank and honest dealing with the sick and afflicted, are Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, debilitated, nervous, "run-down," pain-racked women, and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous remedy for weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver, or biliousness, all catarrhal affections, whether of the stomach, bowels, bladder, nasal passages, throat, bronchi, or other mucous passages, also as an effective remedy for all diseases arising from thin, watery or impure blood, as scrofulous and skin affections.

Each bottle of the above medicines bears upon its wrapper a badge of honesty in the full list of ingredients composing it—printed in plain English. This frank and open publicity places these medicines in a class all by themselves, and is the best guaranty of their merit. They cannot be classed as patent nor secret medicines for they are neither—being of known composition.

Dr. Pierce feels that he can afford to take the afflicted into his full confidence and lay all the ingredients of his medicines freely before them because these ingredients are such as are endorsed and most strongly praised by scores of the most eminent medical writers as cures for the diseases for which these medicines are recommended. Therefore, the afflicted do not have to rely alone upon Dr. Pierce's recommendation as to the curative value of his medicines for certain easily recognized diseases.

A glance at the printed formula on each bottle will show that no alcohol and no harmful or habit-forming drugs enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines, they being wholly compounded of glyceric extracts of the roots of native American forest plants. These are best and safest for the cure of most lingering, chronic diseases. Dr. B. V. Pierce can be consulted, free, by addressing him at Buffalo, N. Y., and all communications are regarded as sacredly confidential.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Telephone Man Flung Himself at Marion, Ky., and Was Killed.

Marion, Ky., March 14.—Elmer Smith, a young man employed by the Paducah Home Telephone company here, committed suicide near the passenger station in this city by jumping in front of a rapidly moving freight train. As the engine of the moving train got within about twenty feet of him Smith was seen to crouch down and then make a sudden leap into the middle of the track, to be knocked about forty feet. He was dead before anybody could reach him.

FANS TO BE HUMORED BY THE MANAGEMENT

Paducah Ball Club Will Probably Report On April 1st.

Manager Lloyd to Give His Men Permanent Places and Perfect Them in Team Work.

OTHER LATE BASEBALL NEWS

Manager Harry Lloyd stated last night that fans were complaining of the lateness of the reporting of the Paducah team, and that probably the management might change the date, ordering the members of the team to report here on April 1 instead of the 15th.

It was first stated that the team would be ordered to report April 1, one month ahead of time, but later this date was changed to the 15th and this will give but two weeks for working. Manager Harry Lloyd does not believe he can work his team out perfectly in this time and will ask that the team be ordered to report the first.

"It is true that most of my team will be composed of experienced men," he explained, "but still there are some new men to try out and I want to get my men all picked for permanent places and worked thoroughly in team work. The first week or two we will have light practice in the morning and heavy work in the afternoon. My style of working men is the same of the big managers who have found light work in the morning and heavy in the afternoon the best. I intend to go after the pennant and will do all I can to land it."

The system of keeping tabs on the batting averages, etc., will be the same as last year except that it will be kept daily and up-to-date so that every member of a team will know his batting and fielding average to the day.

E. C. Rollston, of The Sun, who has been scorer here since the league started, was recommended by the local management as scorer this season, and President Goshnell Sunday ratified the recommendation. It is stated the same scorers in Cairo and Vincennes will be appointed. John Ladd has been the scorer in Cairo and Perry Green in Vincennes.

The Kitty is to have an Indian pitcher. The Jacksonville, Ill., Courier says: Frank Belt has signed a pitcher named Crosby, whom he expects to prove a good one in the Kitty league the coming season. Nate Andrews, another pitcher, is a full blooded Indian, and if he lives up to the reputation that has been established by his red-skin brethren now playing he should prove the best in this league.

Louis Barbour, who played third base for Vincennes last season, and was drafted by Louisville, has been released by the latter and will probably be seen in a Vincennes uniform again this summer.

Nothing has yet been done towards forming the proposed new league composed of Henderson, Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, Madisonville, Clarksville and Owensboro. Mr. Frank Bassett, the promoter, is writing to those he hopes to interest in it, however, and is receiving encouragement.

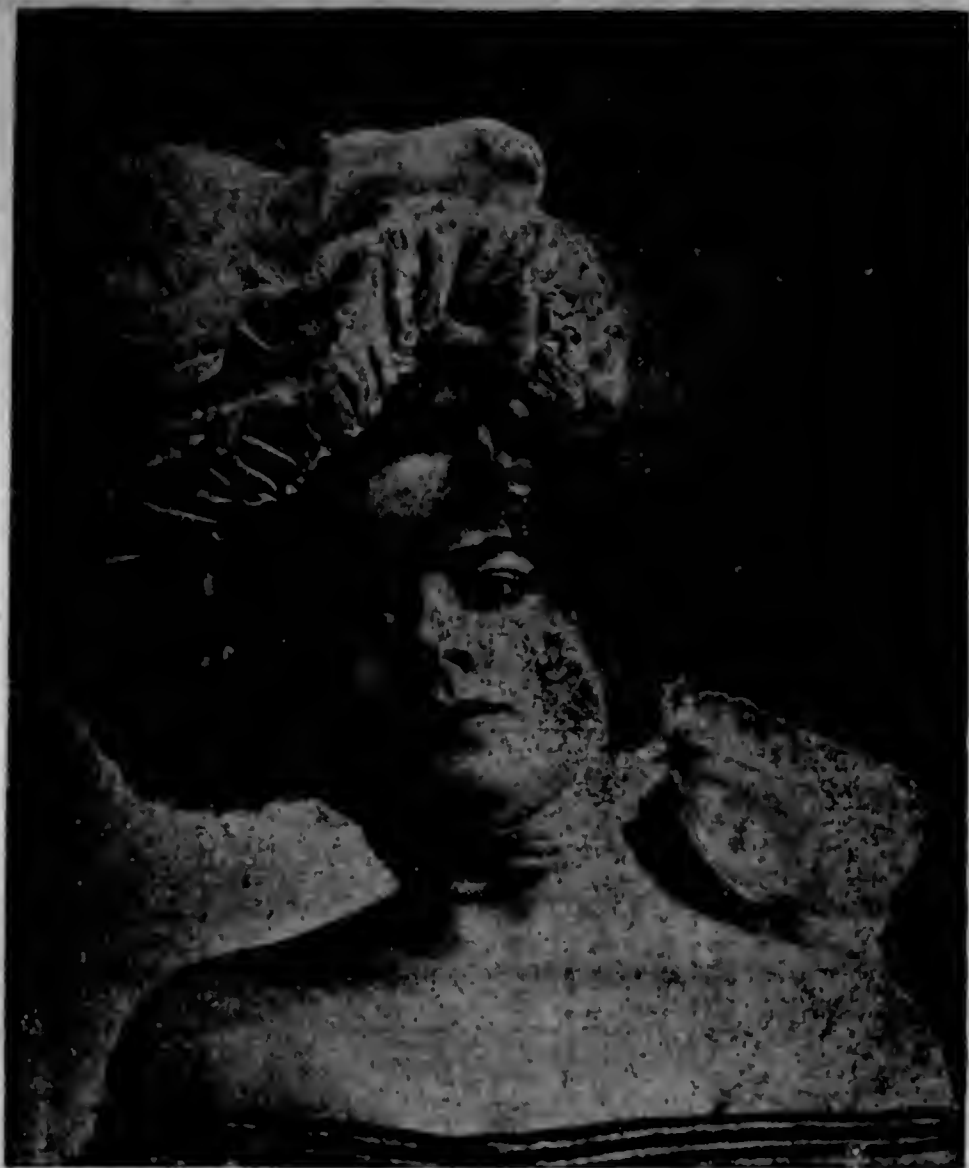

Has No Local Members.

The Master Plumbers' Association of the state is in session at Lexington, Ky., but no one from Paducah is in attendance because there is no master plumber here who is a member of the state or national association.

School children should try this as they will seriously injure their eyes if they strain them studying, often causing headaches. POLICE COURT

ALLEGED WATCH LIFTER GETS CONTINUANCE 'TIL FRIDAY.

The Other Cases Were of a Minor Nature—One $20 Fine Was Assessed.

Elijah Renfrow, colored, was granted a continuance in police court this morning in a grand larceny charge. He is alleged to have stolen a watch from a man named McGraw, of Sikeston, Mo., a passenger on the Dick Fowler Saturday morning. Detective Baker discovered Renfrow trying to slip a watch to another negro on the boat when he went to search them, and nabbed him. McGraw will be here Friday to prosecute, the case having been continued until then in order to secure all witnesses.

John Berry, colored, was dismissed on a charge of breach of the peace and a similar charge against Aker Swift, colored, continued.

Annie Barnett, colored, was recognized in the sum of $100 for her good behavior. She was dismissed on a charge of breach of the peace.

Jim Showers, white, a mattress maker and upholsterer, was fined $20 and costs this morning in police court for a breach of the peace. He was drinking and started a difficulty with Bartender L. Robertson in the Gilberto saloon on South Fourth St. yesterday afternoon and was struck in the head by Robertson who used a lemon squeezer or ice pick. Showers was not badly injured.

DRAMATIC CLUB

IS BEING TALKED OF BY A NUMBER OF PADUCAH PEOPLE.

Social Caste to Be Eliminated and Talent Alone Will Be Considered.

Mr. Joseph Desberger, interlocutor for the Eagles' minstrels tonight has started a move to organize a dramatic club in Paducah irrespective of social standing, the members to be admitted on recognition of talent alone.

There have been a number of dramatic clubs formed here in past years but usually they have been confined to certain social circles and Mr. Desberger has conceived an idea of organizing a club which will draw the best material for dramatic purposes. There are many persons of dramatic talent in Paducah who are never seen in any of the amateur theatricals, minstrels, etc.

Steps towards effecting such a club have already been taken and when the organization is perfected it will be one of the largest in the city. There are some black face comedy talent, others of German dialect and of the legitimate dramatic talent and the club is expected to prove a success.

Big Increase

Shown in Railroad Earnings Since Passes Were Abolished.

The Railway World of March 9

"Mann" was the first month that the railroad companies have made a report of earnings since the order abolishing free transportation went into effect. Although it is impossible in these estimates of earnings to ascertain the source of revenue it may be noted that the railroads affected by the order show a marked increase in gross receipts.

"Thus the gross receipts of the lines directly operated by the Pennsylvania Railroad company increased $2,738,100, while the increase on the lines west is $87,200. The Lehigh Valley shows an increase of $557,988, Jersey Central $328,130, the Philadelphia & Reading railway $191,576 and the Baltimore & Ohio $1,415,291. When the final returns are compiled the next annual reports will doubtless show a very respectable increase in passenger earnings.
